

Acknowledgment

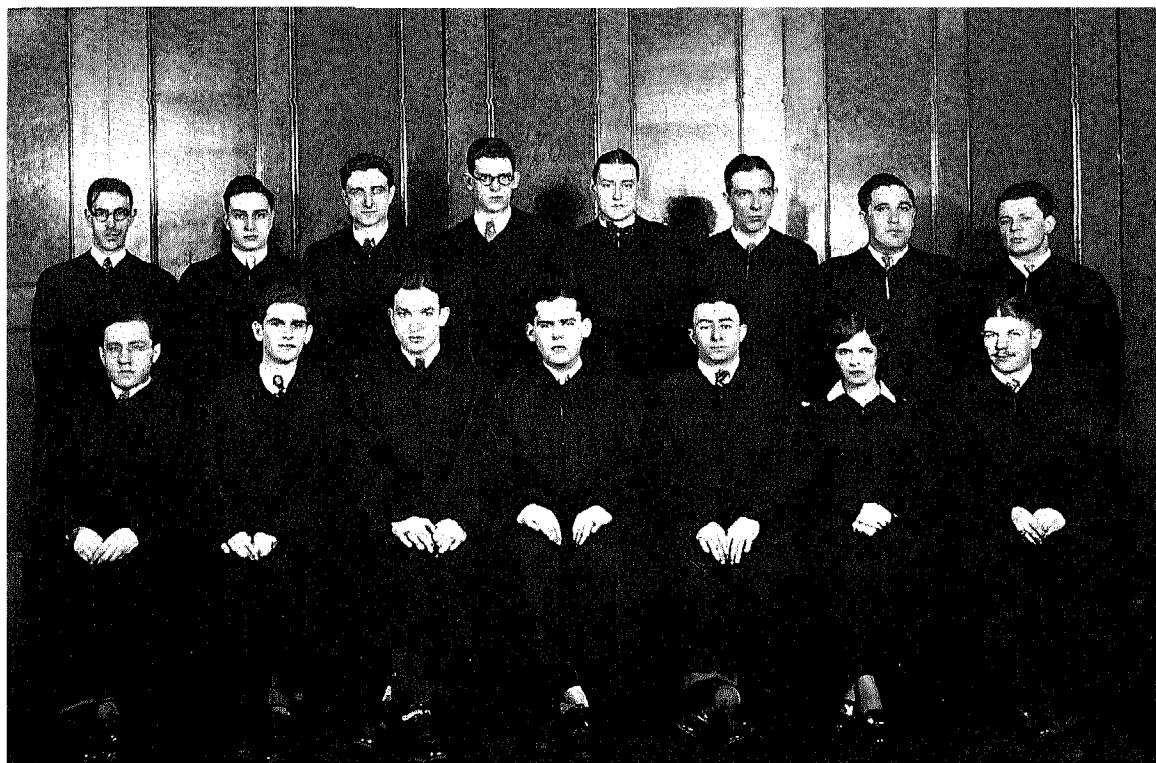

BUILDING this LEGACY of ours has been a lot of fun and a lot of hard work, with trying moments, at times.

In the many hours spent in its preparation, we have become greatly indebted to so many people for their efforts in our behalf, that for fear of forgetting anyone, we wish, as a token of our appreciation, to dedicate this page to those who labored so faithfully with us.

To Mr. Benjamin Franklin James of the Philadelphia Photo Engraving Company, and to Mr. Ralph Heidingsfeld of the J. H. Heidingsfeld Company, we are especially indebted for their many patient hours of effort in advising the staff on the engraving and printing work of this book. Mr. H. Zamsky of the Zamsky Studio, has been a patient and helpful co-worker. The Administration and Faculty have been generous in submitting material, and more than generous in granting our many requests. Mr. Franklin J. Marryott has spent many long hours reading our copy, being particularly obliging when we were hard pressed for pages that had to go to press. Mr. Herbert C. Hunsaker has been generous in giving us his time and energy. Miss Nelle M. Kissinger has ever been gracious and painstaking.

Many others, too numerous to be listed, have devoted precious hours to us unselfishly, and their work has been important enough to merit more space than can be given to them.

“King’s Bench”

“TO foster and encourage the study of the law, and raise the standards of scholarship of New Jersey Law School.

“To reward those students of the New Jersey Law School, who have graduated or shall graduate, with scholastic honors, by election to this organization.

“To make election to this society, the highest attainable distinction of scholarship.”

The Student Council and Faculty of New Jersey Law School, wishing to reward those students whose diligence and industry characterize them as leaders in legal attainment in their law school activities, and recognizing the suitability of an honorary legal fraternity to effectuate that purpose, did, at the Commencement Exercises in June, 1928, announce and establish the Honorary Society of King's Bench whose objects and purposes are as above enumerated.

Early in the fall of 1928, a meeting of the society was called for the purpose of effecting organization, adopting a constitution and electing officers. In keeping with the spirit of the common law our offices have been named after the appellations given to the judges and officials of that “high and honorable court” of King's Bench, and of other important tribunals existing during early English jurisprudence.

The society now holds monthly meetings at which a member renders a dissertation on some important phase of the law. To those members of the graduating class, who shall soon grace our court, we say “Palmarum qui meruit ferat.”

OFFICERS

Lord Chief Justice (Pres.) SAMUEL DOAN, cum laude, '28.

Lord Chancellor (V. P.) SAMUEL ROSENBLATT, summa cum laude, '28.

Master of the Rolls (Sec.) LEO BRUCK, cum laude, '28.

Chancellor of the Exchequer (Treas.) DAVID I. STEPACOFF '28.

Court en banc

Associate Justices

Frederick T. Bernhard, cum laude '28. Edward D. Rohrbach, cum laude '28.

George Epstein '28. George L. Sachs '28.

Edward I. Feinberg '28. Herbert L. Smith, cum laude '28.

Hyman Goodman '28. Joseph A. Ward, cum laude '28.

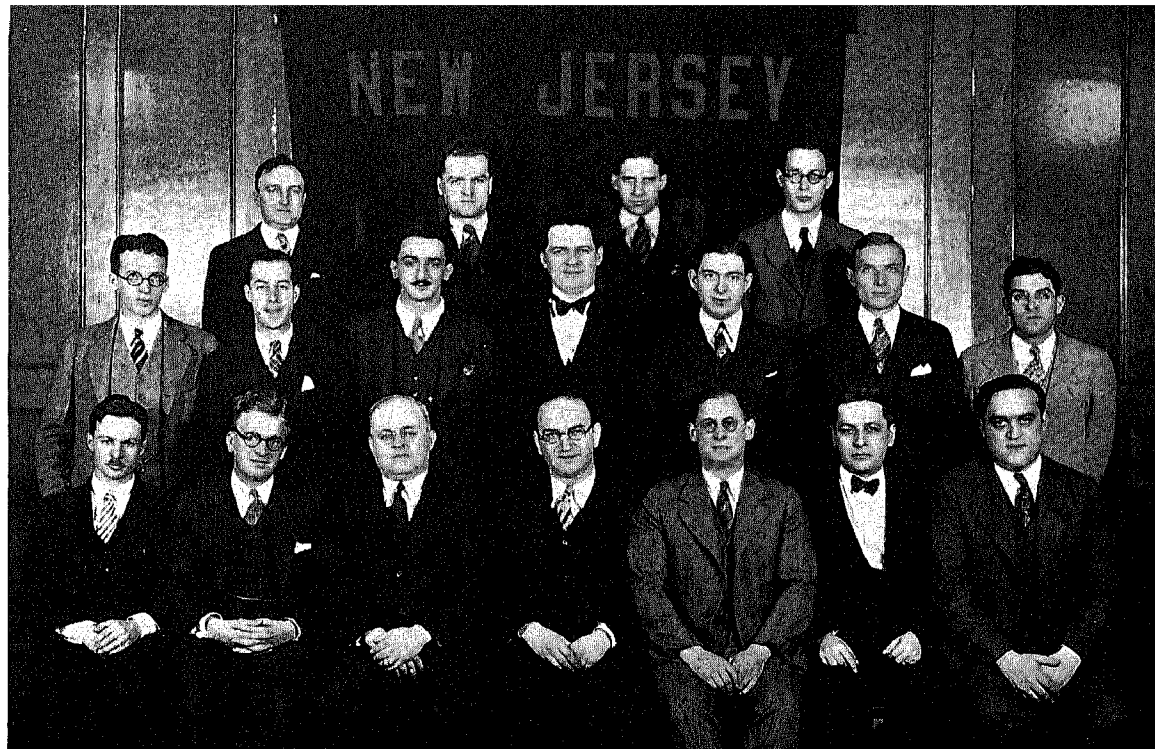

Abraham L. Honigfeld, cum laude '28. Lewis Winetsky '28.

Morton Isaacs, cum laude '28. Phyllis Wolf '28.

Irving I. Jacobs, cum laude '28. Cecil T. Woolsey '28.

Vincent D. Manahan, Jr. '28. Cornelius Zabriskie '28.

Ernest D. North III, cum laude '28. Louis Zavin, cum laude '28.

Seal and Scroll Society

WILLIAM J. EGAN
Master of the Seal

ROBERT HOWARD
Deputy Master of the Seal

BENJAMIN B. H. GREENWOOD
Keeper of the Scroll

Members

- | | |
|------------------------------|--------------------------|
| David J. Ashen '29 | Thomas J. Kenney '28 |
| John V. Burke '29 | Benjamin Kligerman '28 |
| Joseph F. Donahue '29 | Franklin J. Marryott '28 |
| Vincent Duffy '28 | George McElroy '28 |
| William J. Egan '28 | Emil Mintz '29 |
| Edward I. Feinberg '28 | Arthur E. Schmauder '29 |
| Milton Freiman '28 | Irving Schuman '28 |
| Benjamin B. H. Greenwood '29 | Sydney Sher '29 |
| Thomas J. Harty '28 | Sidney Silverberg '29 |
| Anthony Hauck, Jr., '28 | W. D. Smith '28 |
| Abraham Honigfeld '28 | Donald P. Taylor '29 |
| Robert Howard '29 | Richard Uslander '29 |
| C. H. Hummel '28 | Benjamin C. Van Tine '29 |
| Julius Kass '29 | Joseph Ward '28 |
| | William F. Watters '29 |

The New Jersey Law School Teaching Fellowship

AT its annual meeting in January, 1926, New Jersey Law School created the New Jersey Law School Teaching Fellowship with an annual income of $1,200.00 to the holder. The terms require that the candidate shall be a Bachelor of Arts, a graduate of a law school and a student whom the committee considers as giving promise of becoming a legal scholar and a teacher. The recipient will be expected to do research work or teaching during the year he holds the scholarship.

After considering the applicants from New Jersey Law School and from other law schools in the country it was decided to award the fellowship for the year 1928 to Mr. Ernest D. North, II, of Upper Montclair, New Jersey. Mr. North was born in Montclair, New Jersey, graduated from Wesleyan University, 1924, B.A.; graduated from New Jersey Law School, 1928, LL.B.; Yale University, 1929, LL.B.; New Jersey Law School Teaching Fellowship, 1928; elected to King's Bench, 1928.

Awards and Prizes for 1928

New Jersey Law School Prize—To that member of the Senior Class receiving the highest average for the three years, Mr. Samuel Rosenblatt, 190 Harrison Street, Paterson, New Jersey.

Chester Sherman Prize—To those students doing the best work in the Legal Research course a set of Corpus Juris Cyc System complete to date.

First Prize—Senior (class of '28) Mr. David I. Stepacoff, 160 Lewis Street, Perth Amboy, New Jersey.

Junior (class of '29) Mr. J. M. Spangler, 331 West 3rd Street, Roselle, New Jersey.

Second Prize—First twenty-five volumes of Corpus Juris. A. Marvin Block.

Third Prize—Twelve volumes of the Outlines for Review Series. Messrs. Morris Cohen, Frank J. Dougherty, Harry Dudkin, Meyer Liebman.

Fourth Prize—The Collegiate Law Dictionary Bar Questions. Messrs. Benjamin Chodosh, Fred Kaminows, Paul J. Maher, Leslie Turbyne, Gabriel Wartels.

Iota Alpha Pi Sorority, Epsilon Chapter Prize—Two volumes for 1928 Black's Law Dictionary and "An Introduction to the Philosophy of Law," by Roscoe Pound. To that member of the Junior Class receiving the highest average in the course in equity, awarded to: Mr. Benjamin C. VanTine, Class 1929, Long Branch, New Jersey.

Tau Upsilon Delta Sorority Prize—$25.00 to the girl in the Senior Class having the highest average for the three years, awarded to: Miss Phylis Wolf, Paterson, New Jersey.

Lambda Alpha Phi Fraternity, Alpha Chapter Prize—$25.00 to the student receiving the highest average in Pleading and Practice for the three years, awarded to: Leo Bruck, North Arlington, New Jersey.

Debate Keys—Messrs. Harry Becker, Class of 1930; Joseph F. Donohue, Class of 1929; Julius Kass, Benjamin C. VanTine, William Watters, Lewis Winetsky, Class of 1928; Warren D. Smith, Vinina Carlos; Emil Wulstein.

Class Key—Mr. William J. Egan, Class 1928, Newark, New Jersey.